UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

CAPTAIN BRETT “DEVIL” COLLINS

Captain Brett P. Collins currently serves as an AFROTC Assistant Professor of Aerospace Studies and is assigned to Detachment 012, Samford University. As the Education and Recruiting Officer he is responsible for the recruitment and mentoring of college students who are interested in a commission into the USAF and USSF.

Capt Collins was born in Spokane, Washington, on 24 February 1983. He graduated Gonzaga Preparatory High School in June of 2001 and enlisted in the USMC. He completed training and earned the Eagle, Globe and Anchor on 14 September 2001. He trained as an Artillery Forward Observer and Civil Affairs Non-Commissioned Officer deploying several times in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom and the Global War on Terror to include the major battles of Fallujah and Ramadi where he was decorated for combat action. He transferred to the Marine Corps Mobile Training Teams where he became an instructor of Marine Corps Martial Arts, Rifle and Pistol Marksmanship, Weapons and Tactics, Close Quarters Battle and Water Survival. In 2009, Brett conducted an inter-service transfer to the Air Force becoming an Air Force Special Tactics Combat Controller. After graduating the grueling Special Tactics CCT pipeline he earned his Scarlet Beret and moved to Hurlburt Field, Florida. After sustaining injuries during training, Capt Collins elected to retrain over retiring and became a Command-and-Control Specialist. As a Command-and-Control Specialist Capt Collins was stationed at Keesler AFB Mississippi with the 81st Training Wing, the World Famous Hurricane Hunters, and Geilenkirchen NATO Airbase. He had a major role in the C-ISIL mission as the NATO's only enlisted Duty Officer. While serving with NATO he was selected to Master Sergeant. A few months later he commissioned through Officer Training School on 27 September 2019 as a Force Support Officer. Upon completion of OTS, Lt Collins was assigned as a Section Commander for the 726th Air Control Squadron and 391st Fighter Squadron and dual hatted as an Executive Officer and Base Honor Guard OIC as well as Community Support Flight Commander 366th Force Support Squadron. Brett was married to Kati L. Collins on 10 October 2015 and has one son, Christian S. Collins born on 24 March 2018.
